REFERENDUM IN OHIO FIRST ON FEDERAL ISSUE

Fate of Ratification of National Prohibition Will Be Determined.

BOTH SIDES OPTIMISTIC

Interest Throughout State In Wet-Dry and Classification Fights.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—The state-wide elections in Ohio today are featured by the fact that the Buckeye state voters, for the first time in the history of the United States, are casting referendum votes on a proposed amendment to the federal constitution.

Never before, in any state of the union, has this happened, according to election officials.

As a result of today's referendum, Ohio voters either will approve or vote down the resolution, adopted by the Ohio legislature last spring, ratifying the amendment to the federal constitution providing for nationwide prohibition.

Ohio voters today are passing judgment upon four proposals relating to the liquor traffic, the proposal that the Ohio constitution be amended so as to permit classification of property for taxation purposes, various proposed bond issues, including those for good roads, while many municipal voters are casting ballots for candidates for mayor, councilmen and other local officials.

The wet-dry issues involve the efforts of the wets to defeat, through a referendum, the Crutcher prohibition enforcement act, passed by the state legislature this year, and to induce the voters to adopt two proposed amendments to the state constitution, one repealing the prohibition amendment and the other legalizing beverages containing a 2.75 per cent alcoholic content.

As usual, leaders on both sides of all the issues up for settlement today.

WILSON UNABLE TO CAST VOTE

Stays Away from Polls for First Time in Seven Years.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—For the first time during his nearly seven years in the White House, President Wilson was forced today, on account of his illness, to stay away from the polls on election day.

It is probable that Dr. Grayson will permit him to receive the returns in his sick room.

The President's condition continues to improve to the satisfaction of his physicians. Dr. Grayson will not permit him to leave his bed but the time is not far off when the President will be able to sit up in a chair for a short time daily.

The President yesterday signed a few bills and prepared some nominations to be sent to the senate.

Sweeping Victory For Republican Ticket in City and For Prohibition in Both East Liverpool and County is Predicted by Leaders--Record Vote is Expected.

With 1522 votes cast at 1 p. m., indications pointed to a record vote at the election in East Liverpool Tuesday.

Interest in the four wet-dry proposals is believed largely responsible for the large turnout of electors. The two-mill tax levy for county road purposes and the two-platoon firemen's measure have also elicited considerable eleventh hour interest.

A sweeping victory for the entire Republican ticket was predicted at noon Tuesday. Mayor J. S. Wilson is expected to poll the largest Republican vote, with City Auditor John T. Burns a close second. The fight for the city solicitorship between Fry L. Rigby, Republican nominee, and G. Jay Clark, Democrat, is also arousing keen interest. Clark is expected to poll a larger vote than W. F. Orr, Democratic mayoralty candidate.

Warm Fight For Council

The fight for first ward election between J. Raymond Chambers, present incumbent, and J. C. Williamson, Democrat, is said to be close in the suburb with the issue in doubt. Republican nominees in the other three wards are generally conceded a victory over their opponents.

With eight candidates in the field, the race for three vacancies on the board of education is occupying the attention of many voters.

Eleven candidates have entered the lists for the three positions on the board of township trustees. Included in this array are two defeated candidates for municipal office in the August primaries.

On the judicial ticket, four candidates are battling for the three vacancies as justice of the peace. P. V. Mackall, who won his contention that a third vacancy be declared in the ranks of the justices of the peace, C. W. Powell, Charles Gill and William M. Hill are the candidates.

Dry Forces are Optimistic

A victory for the dry forces in Columbiana county was predicted Tuesday by Thomas Hindle, president of the Columbiana county dry maintenance league. "The voting will be a little heavier this year than before," Mr. Hindle predicted. "It will be a landslide for the dries in Columbiana county. Ohio will remain dry by at least 100,000 majority."

W. R. Skeen, local manager for the Ohio Home Rule association, expressed confidence that the state would return a substantial wet majority. He also declared that the dry majority in Columbiana county would be materially cut down by the day's vote.

The classification of property issue is arousing little interest. Little effort has been made by either its advocates or opponents to explain the proposition and as a result many local electors will pass it up.

Countywide interest is being manifested in the fate of the two-mill levy for county road purposes. The proposal now bears the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce in practically every city in the county and automobile owners and others are making a great fight for its passage. The farmer vote which it is believed will swing the proposal, is said to be about equally divided. No one in East Liverpool would hazard a guess on its fate in this city.

Despite the fact that sufficient funds to place the system in effect are not available, the initiative on the

BIG VOTE CAST THROUGHOUT STATE ON WET-DRY QUESTIONS

COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—That a heavy vote was being polled throughout Ohio today, was indicated by reports on election day developments reaching here at noon today.

The farmer's vote was being attracted, according to advices, by the wet-dry fight and the struggle over the proposed classification amendment.

Reports from cities indicated that many women cast their ballots early. Although discrediting the claims of dry leaders that the wets will lose in Ohio today, wet leaders gave out no figures.

Supt. James A. White, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, stood pat this afternoon on his prediction that the wets will lose out on all four issues to be disposed of by Ohio voters today, and that the dry plurality on some of the proposals will reach 100,000 votes.

That there is an overwhelming opposition to the classification amendment in the rural districts and smaller municipalities, and that the biggest support of the proposal is being registered in the big cities was indicated in reports reaching here.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4.—Voting the first hour in Cleveland indicated that the election today would record one of the heaviest votes in years. The wet and dry issue coupled with a majority contest of unprecedented interest combined in getting the vote out.

Odds were still ten to four today on the re-election of Harry L. Davis over Dr. Robert H. Bishop as mayor.

Approximately 4,500 women were expected to cast votes for members of the board of education.

Election officials predicted that the vote would run 115,000 today.

SANDUSKY, Nov. 4.—An unusually heavy vote cast immediately following the opening of the polling places here reflected the unprecedented interest in the prohibition question here.

The dries claiming the advantage, predicted today that Erie county, always wet 3 to 1 in the past, may shift into the dry column.

The recent arrest, in Cleveland, Ohio, of a group of anarchists, who were caught with explosives and deadly weapons in their possession, throws new light on a nation-wide bomb plot which had for its object the murder of hundreds of officials and other notables and the overturning of the government. HEAVY VOTING IS REPORTED IN CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—For an off-year indications point to a heavy vote in Cincinnati with the wet and dry issue holding first place of interest. Voting was slow on account of the numerous ballots to be marked.

The superior court judgeship contest up to noon indicates a hot race between Robert S. Marx, Democrat, and Henry K. Gibson, Republican, with Gibson reported slightly in the lead.

LIQUOR WORTH $1,200 STOLEN EARLY MONDAY

Burglars Raid Junk Shop Where Whiskey Was Stored.

THREE OWNED LOOT

Visit Paid to Mrs. Michael Hoffrichter's Junk Place.

Bonded liquors valued at $1,200 were stolen from the junk shop of Mrs. Michael Hoffrichter in First avenue, East End, early Monday morning, it developed Tuesday. The whiskey was the property of Mrs. Hoffrichter, Dave Berkovitz and Joseph Weiser.

Entrance into the junk shop was effected through an elevated window facing an alley in the rear of the establishment. A ladder was borrowed from an adjoining building and placed against the window sill.

That the theft was committed by persons familiar with the establishment, was the belief expressed Tuesday. The liquor, a part of which was bottled and cased and the balance in jugs, had been cleverly hidden beneath innocent-looking piles of old rags. A dozen or more bottles of the expensive brands had been placed in a basket and covered over with second hand clothing.

Loss of the liquor was discovered Monday morning by Mrs. Hoffrichter who resides in the front of the junk shop facing First avenue. Mrs. Hoffrichter operates a second hand clothing business in connection with the junk shop.

INFLUENCES AT WORK TO BRING PEACE IN COAL MINING FIELDS

Samuel Gompers Endeavoring to Obtain Prompt Settlement.

HOPE TO AVERT FAMINE

Situation Throughout Strike Territory Remained Unchanged Tuesday.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A special committee of three members to be appointed by the president to deal with the soft coal strike and attempt to arbitrate and settle the same is provided for in a joint resolution introduced in the senate this afternoon by Senator Kenyon, Republican, of Iowa. At Senator Kenyon's request the resolution was referred to the senate committee on education and labor, of which he is chairman.

By WM. PHILIP SIMMS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Despite a lack of any sensational turn in the coal strike situation up to this, the fourth day since the walkout, it is believed here that a settlement of the trouble will not be long delayed.

Under the placid surface of things many influences are at work all leading toward that end. Both government circles and moderate labor groups are known to be working in concert to effect a reconciliation between the coal miners and the operators before the public has time to suffer the horrors of a coal famine.

Samuel Gompers, it is known here, is using his influence to obtain a prompt settlement along moderate lines.

Edgar Wallace, official representative of the United Mine Workers in Washington, and one of the few leaders whose tongue is not tied by the Indianapolis injunction, stated that the miners are willing to negotiate.

COAL MINERS GO TO CITIES

Report Defections In Northern Part of West Virginia.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Indications are for a prolonged coal strike, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois coal miner's union declared in an exclusive interview today, just after he emphasized that not one of the 90,000 miners in Illinois are at work except those authorized by the union.

Mr. Farrington talked freely as the Indianapolis restraining injunction had not as yet been served on him.

"Unless the strike is settled quickly," Mr. Farrington, "there will be few miners left to mine coal when it is. Our reports are that the Illinois miners are out one hundred percent. They tell us that the men in the large southern fields are leaving for the cities by the hundreds seeking employment in other lines of endeavor."

This indicates a long siege of strike and fewer coal miners when the strike is over.

"Arbitration? Why ask about it? We are emphatically opposed to it, in view of the operators' attitude in the conference preceding the strike, statements by Edgar Wallace in Washington to the contrary notwithstanding. Mr. Wallace has no authority to make such announcements. He is merely our legislative representative in Washington and has no official title in the union."

TORONTO FIRM SIGNS SCALE

Miners' Demands Are Granted
By Call Clay Manufacturing Co.

The Call Clay Manufacturing company of Toronto has signed the new scale demanded by the United Mine Workers of America, it was announced Tuesday.

The concern operates a coal mine near Toronto employing nearly a score of soft coal miners. The scale was signed by Dr. H. G. Kilgus, Toronto, general manager. The company is believed to be one of the first concerns in this vicinity employing union miners to agree to the new demands of the union.

The situation throughout Columbiana county remained unchanged Tuesday. Over 1,000 miners employed in mines in the Salineville, West Point, Leetonia-Washingtonville and Salem districts were still idle.

INFLUENCES

with the operators on either one of two bases: First, on the basis of present selling price of coal, otherwise on the ability of the operators to pay; second, on the basis of the present cost of living.

"The miners will rescind the strike order and the men will go back to work, if the operators will present a counter proposition to their demands on which there may be negotiations," declared Edgar Wallace, representative of the United Mine Workers of America, today. This is the first intimation here that the miners are willing to rescind their strike order and call off the strike.

"The miners will not submit their case to a board of arbitration—they can get arbitration any time they want it. The thing to do now is to get the operators and the miners together and let the government and other outsiders get out of the situation," declared a statement from Wallace and his colleague, Walter James.

That ultimately the adjustment between the operators and miners will be made, at least in part, on the cost of living basis, may be accepted as a foregone conclusion, whether the federal government acts as supreme arbitrator, or the nearly four hundred thousand men out on strike deal directly with the operators—as many, if not all, of the miners' leaders prefer. In view of this fact statistics published in the October review of the bureau of labor, just issued, become extremely timely, as furnishing in advance some of the grounds which would be set forth in such a parley.

The demands of the miners are for constant employment—that is a 30-hour week—and a living wage, which they set at a 60 per cent increase in their present pay.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 4.—It would be a simple matter for the government and the coal operators to set machinery in motion for the joint system of bargaining to effect a wage agreement in the coal strike, declared John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America today in the first formal statement he has made to the public since the walk-out became effective.

"The machinery of the joint system of bargaining in the mining industry is intact. It would be a simple matter for the government and the coal operators to again set it in motion to negotiate a wage agreement," says Lewis' brief statement.

RAIL WORKERS DEFY UNCLE SAM

Open Challenge to Prevent Strike Is Made by Unions In Circulars About to Be Issued.

By Mildred Morris

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—An open challenge to the government to prevent a railroad strike, by the exercise of the Lever act injunction proceedings of any kind or the passage of anti-strike legislation, is made by the railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, representing 1,600,000 members, in official circulars about to be issued, calling a strike ballot in a movement for a nationwide strike in event strike legislation is passed by congress.

Official circular No. 52 about to be distributed among the 350,000 members of the "machinists' union," declares "Under no circumstances will we agree to any compromise looking toward the sacrifice of the rights of our members to strike in case a strike becomes necessary, whether said condition is the result of legislative enactment or by any other means used to accomplish the denial of the right of the workers to exercise their economic power, in case of necessity, by going on strike."

The circular calls on "every local lodge this time to unite its forces with one common purpose in view and that is of 'accepting the challenge laid down to us and to prevent the establishment of a condition that would mean involuntary servitude.'"

"It is very evident from events" the circular declared "that the signing of the armistice on November 11, actual hostilities ceased in the world war and labor thought by the signing of that declaration that the world was made safe for democracy."

It appears that big business, special privileges and other who are seeking to destroy the standards created by organized labor have only looked in this declaration as a declaration of war against trade union movement both in the industrial field and the legislative field.

All organized labor will be asked to join in the nationwide strike planned. The circulars calling for strike ballots will be issued by all organizations represented on the executive board of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

That a general railroad strike to enforce wage demands involving nearly 2,000,000 workers in the railroad while the coal strike is on, is indicated by statements of officials of the railroad crafts. They say that they are besieged by letters and telegrams from local unions demanding that they brook no further delay on the part of the railroad administration and that the leaders are holding in the rank and file by "the skin of their teeth." The men's impatience with what they claim is delay by the government in reducing the cost of living is being increased by resentment of the government's action against the coal miners, union officials stated today.

RESULT OF KENTUCKY ELECTION IN DOUBT

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 4.—Despite unsurpassed hopefulness among Republicans, uncertainty ruled in today's Kentucky gubernatorial election in which Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, is opposing the present governor, James M. Black, Democrat. Republicans are confident that if they win today the state, normally Democratic, will swing to the Republican side in the national campaign. Kentuckians also are voting on state-wide prohibition.

BANK BANDITS ARE OUTWITTED

Bank Manager in Detroit
Frustrates Bold Attempt at Robbery.

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—The quick wit of the bank manager and the youth of the three bandits involved frustrated the boldest attempt of the daylight bank robbery in Detroit's history today.

Three bandits in an automobile drove up to the Harper avenue branch of the Peninsular State Bank just before noon and while one of them remained in the car the other two entered the bank, presented revolvers at the head of Jasper E. Spears and demanded the money in the vault. Spears replied by telling them to "go to the devil" and the men each fired a shot at him. In the meantime A. K. Peplinski, manager of the bank, slammed the vault door closed and rang a burglar alarm which caused the two boy bandits to run for the door. They escaped without the $15,000 cash that was in the vault.

SITUATION ON FOURTH DAY OF WALKOUT

About 400,000 soft coal miners are reported out.

They demand regular work, a 30-hour week and 60 per cent increase over present pay.

STRIKE TO END IN FOUR WEEKS

This Is Prediction of Head of Miners' Department of A. F. of L.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The end of the national coal strike in four weeks was seen here today by James Lord, president of the Miners' department of the American Federation of Labor, after a conference with Samuel Gompers.

"The strike, I think, will be over in about four weeks," he said. "I can't see how the operators will let the strike run because Garfield has nailed down the prices of coal which eliminates their chances to clean up by profiteering."

"The element of uncertainty in the strike has been eliminated by Dr. Garfield's fixing of prices. I don't believe that the government can smash the strike by injunctions, and I am dubious of President Wilson's plan for an outside commission to settle it. It will be settled by a conference between the miners and the operators."

REFERENDUM

gave out optimistic statements based upon predictions of victory.

The greatest general interest centers in the wet-dry fight and the struggle over property classification. The soldier vote may prove an important factor in the determination of the wet-dry issues.

The wets, in launching their campaign, claimed the dry won in Ohio last year because the soldiers were overseas and did not vote. With the soldiers back home, the wets claim prohibition will be defeated.

This declaration is met by dry leaders with the claim that a majority of the soldier vote is dry. They claim this is borne out by the recent prohibition victory in Michigan where the returned soldiers participated in the voting.

Campaign leaders expressed the belief that more voters will visit the polls today than last fall.

G. O. P. MEN TO WIN, PREDICTED

That the entire Republican ticket will be elected is the opinion of political leaders in Wellsville Tuesday. Little opposition is expected from the Democrats for the mayoralty, president of council, or treasurer. Political leaders say that the Democrats will show up strongest in the contests for council from the various wards.

Democrats expect to make their best showing, not only in the race for councilmanic jobs but in the fight for president of council. There is little speculation on the mayoralty.

It was estimated Tuesday that approximately 1,800 votes would be cast. On account of the many issues to be decided it was believed that the voters would be out in force.

Opinions differed on the street car referendum. The issue, apparently, has supporters about equal in number to those who are in favor of granting the extension company its increase.

The two-mill tax levy, in the opinion of many voters, will pass here.

That the city will poll an almost overwhelming vote in favor of the Crabbe act, in favor of the ratification of national prohibition amendments, against the repeal of state wide prohibition and opposed to the sale of 2.75 percent alcoholic beverages, was the general consensus of opinion here.

Masquerade Ball
Extensive plans are being made by the members of the Odd Fellows lodge of Wellsville, for a masquerade ball and entertainment to be held Saturday evening in their hall in Main street. The Odd Fellows will act in conjunction with the Rebekas in preparing the program of activities for the evening.

BELLAIRE GRID TEAM BOOKED

Although the Bellaire high school football team, which will clash with the orange and black at Central park next Saturday afternoon, is considered one of the strongest school eleven in the Ohio valley, supporters of Van Tilburg's warriors are confident that they will give a good account of themselves.

The game is considered one of the hardest on the schedule of the local team. Bellaire has in years past been represented by winning eleven, and according to reports from the down river town, this year's squad is no exception.

Wellsville high will make every effort to overcome the hoodoo which seems to have been on their trail since the beginning of the season. Already three games have been played which ended in ties. The breaks have gone against the locals in almost every instance. The orange and black will practice every evening this week in preparation for the engagement.

Congregational Meeting.
Officials of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church will be elected at a meeting to be held Wednesday, Nov. 12.

WELLSVILLE PERSONALS.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnes of Cleveland have concluded a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Hamlin Barnes of Main street.

Miss Margaret Kelley is visiting with Miss Marcella Zimmerman at her home in Pittsburg.

Mrs. W. H. Grabbing is ill at her home in Clark avenue.

COUNTY NEWS

LISBON WILL POLL BIG VOTE

There is every indication that there will be a heavy vote cast in Lisbon and center township Tuesday. By 10 o'clock 25 percent of the vote was cast and during the day the vote came in steadily. The only active work done toward getting out the vote was by dry leaders, who had checkers and workers at every precinct. The church people had union prayer meetings all day at the Methodist church and rang bells every hour. County Treasurer W. R. Phillips is leading the dry forces. The wets have no workers on the job. There is considerable interest in the two-mill road levy and also in classification. The indications are that the rural vote and a very large per cent of the vote in Lisbon will be against classification.

LISBON PERSONALS

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Illinois voters today are electing the constitutional convention to sit in January at Springfield, a circuit court judge and a superior court judge. Chicago voters have one of the biggest "little ballots" in the history of the city, fourteen propositions being on the local ballot.

Political managers early today predicted a vote of 240,000, with the woman's vote not exceeding fifty thousand.

BEER SIGNS VANISH.

Deputy internal revenue collectors in newly dry districts have been sending out notices to former saloon keepers that their liquor signs must come down, and softening the blow by explaining that they "don't mean anything any more." It's orders from Washington, they say.

The regulation falls most heavily on the beer signs. And thus one of the most characteristic features of American landscapes, particularly municipal landscapes, seems destined to pass into oblivion.

The beer sign has long been the hallmark of the American saloon, the most distinct and notable feature of the liquor emporium. In some places it has been confined to fairly moderate dimensions, but in the majority of cases it has grown to a monstrous structure across the face of the building, or on the roof, or both together. In many a city the vista along almost any business street has consisted largely of these gilded, bedizened and often illuminated signs. The breweries have been primarily responsible, but most saloonists have been not at all averse to flaunting this form of art. The whiskey men, too, have done their best—and worst, which was not so bad as the brewery masterpieces. Surely people must have loved their beer with a great love to endure those signs.

It is strange, too. In no other country has the liquor industry been accompanied by such advertising monstrosities.

Good riddance! People who have regard for civic beauty will pray that nothing worse shall take their place.

SELLING IDEAS.

Sometimes one hears pessimistic talk about the inevitable clash between ideals and business. A man who is president of a great paint and varnish company, and has been working with paint and varnish through fifty successful years, believes quite the contrary. In an interview given the American Magazine he says that he always instructs his salesmen that they are to sell ideas first, and to remember that paints and varnishes are merely the instruments of ideas and ideals.

"Because paint or varnish improves the appearance of a home, or an office, or a building, they must sell their prospective customer the idea that paint means beauty. Because cleanliness is sanitary, they must sell the idea that paint means health; because it preserves surfaces, they must sell the idea that paint means economy. Cheerfulness, brightness, color—these make a pleasing environment; therefore, paint may actually mean added happiness. People are attracted to a store or a theatre, or even to a church, if it is well painted and artistically decorated; and for that reason paint means prosperity.

"If the ideal around which a business is being built up is one of mere selfish money-grabbing, the ideas used in manufacturing and selling will surely bow to this ideal. You will find that business honeycombed with ideas of cheap labor, cheap production, swollen profits—all of them ideas for furthering selfish gain.

"On the other hand, if the central ideals are faith, happiness and service, the ideas permeating that business must and inevitably will be those of honesty, integrity, confidence, quality, a contented and loyal organization and customers who are well served and satisfied."

These are not the vagaries of a theorist. The man who utters them is one of the country's successful men, and his business carries out his ideas.

It looks as if people might begin to learn, after a while, that ideals are not incompatible with making a comfortable living. And when capital and labor have learned that the one great principle upon which to base their efforts should be the service of the public weal, when all the warring parts begin to realize that they are, after all, only parts of the same whole, and that the good of one is the good of all, most of the difficulties of the labor world will solve themselves.

DEER FLY FEVER.

In Utah they have a brand new germ, and he is one of the bolshheviks of germdom, too. His name is bacterium tularensis, and he lurks in the bite of the deer-fly.

Thus far his activities seem to have been confined to rural districts in Utah. The victim develops a fever similar to that which accompanies blood-poisoning. He is very ill for a period varying from three to six weeks, and occasionally the attack proves fatal.

Of course science will forge ahead and discover ways of combating this new enemy, but in the meantime the discovery should serve as one more reason for fighting fly pests of all kinds. It may be impossible for the hunter or the fisherman to avoid the bite of the deer fly, but he can carry some simple antiseptic in his kit, for prompt application when he is bitten. As for the cabin on the edge of the clearing, it should be screened just as carefully as any town dwelling, even though the material used be only cotton mosquito netting tacked on by the man of the house.

All flies are scavengers, and disease-carriers. Whether their bite is fatal or not, relentless war should be waged against them.

Those 15 French dogs that were awarded the croix de guerre for "distinguished gallantry in action" are probably thanking their lucky star for the chance they had. And what is their lucky star, you ask? To be perfectly honest, we don't know whether it's Mars or the Dog Star.

Things look pretty bad now. But one of these times everybody will suddenly find that reconstruction has been reconstructed, and the peace treaty ratified, and everything is moving to boom-time music. And it might not be a bad guess to say, along about the first of the year.

A new airplane is said to be able to "stop within 50 feet." Which will add greatly to the safety of flying, especially if those feet are measured vertically.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up and abroad to pay several little scores and to the park near the Hudson and watched the sun on the Falls; and was big with admiration of it. For a walk with A. Roche, the scrivener, who did cry mightily the intellectual power of Mr. Shaw believing him to be the greatest mind of this age, but I did not agree.

On the highway we did see Lord Dunsany on the way to lecture and he seemed not fitted for the part for most of the platform types I have found are the poseur and the Ananias, yet I have seen but few. Comes by post some of the merriest quips I have read in a twelvemonth from M. Nicholson, the humorist, pamphleteer, and too a burlesque script from C. Briggs, the humorist.

This day I had occasion to use the instrument except the telephone in a public medicine shop and was so vexed that I stamped out of the store and ran plump into a fine lady in silks, who abused me roundly. Home where I breakfasted at noon, finding it a fine plan and making for a ready appetite.

All the afternoon packing my luggage and washing the dog, for we do entrain this evening for Kansas City to see my father and sister, it being the first time in several years.

Ambition is the thing! It is a far cry from the dictating room to leading a life with a star, but in these days nothing is remarkable. Three years ago Sylvia Clark was receiving dictation and pounding a typewriter. Today she is Raymond Hitchcock's leading lady and has her name in electric lights and her pictures in the photographic sections. There are a lot of people in Manhattan who have stung their way to fame and fortune. Three well-known sob sisters began as stenographers for years ago and are now making more than $100 a week. And for fear this may be propaganda for the commercial schools—they all picked up short hand and typewriting themselves.

Lew Docstader, the last of the minstrels, sends this wheeze from a sanitarium where he is recovering from a sick spell. "Even if the laundry help has gone on strike. At any rate, the Bolsheviks aren't affected."

Joe Weber and Lew Fields, the comedians, have their serious moments. The other day they parted with $5,000 without a choking struggle and Adele Rowland, musical comedy star, profited by their decision. Miss Rowland sued to recover $15,000 from the comedians who were to back her in a musical comedy.

Weber was at court when the trial opened and he made the $5,000 offer explaining that circumstances had found his control let to him being unable to part with his contract. He left the court room with Miss Rowland arm-in-arm.

I live across the street from Dr. Pease, the man who makes people quit smoking in subways, on street cars and any place where the smoke pollutes the air. Most of the papers refer to him as Annette Hazelton Pease because a handwriting expert declared that a letter signed "Annette Hazelton" was written by the doctor himself. Dr. Pease may be officious and a zealot, but I like him, although I have never had the pleasure of his acquaintance. I can't explain it, but secretly I want to put him on the back. He seems so lonesome, too, and in the evenings after dinner he goes to the park, under the wisteria arbor, and sits all alone and something about his doing that makes me sympathetic. I wonder what it is.

LONGING—You will never again ask yourself why you "have such a poor complexion" if you will be sure to use the formula give you here. You'll wonder why other women "have such poor complexions." Go to the drug store and get one ounce of zintone. This will cost about 60 cents. Mix with two tablespoonfuls of glycerine in one pint of water. Apply this cream rather thick and rub it in thoroughly, every day. Every blemish will disappear quickly, and you hope for a queenly complexion will come true. It never fails to give a queenly, adorable, extraordinary tint and purity to the skin.

MRS. "HAIRY"—It is just as easy to remove superfluous hairs now as it is to use your favorite face cream or lotion, and just as agreeable—if you use the proper means. The usual powders and pastes often irritate and redden the skin, and this has done more than anything else to make it a drudgery for women to use a superfluous hair remover. Now all danger, irritation and skin reddening is eliminated by the use of a few drops of suifo solution. You can apply this instantly with the fingers on the hairs to be removed. There is nothing to mix or get ready. The hairs can then be literally wiped off with the fingers. The skin is left smooth and soft as a baby's. This liquid can be applied often, without any skin irritation, even to delicate parts. It is ideal. Use it on the arms, shoulders, bust, ankles, armpits. Never shave off hairs, as this makes them more stiff and grow faster.

SORE ARMS—I want you to try this for the control of that excessive and unnatural perspiration in the armpits. It will save your garments, too, and prevent many embarrassments. Simply sprinkle hydrolized talc in the armpits, freely. This is really a wonderful article for the purpose and any drug store can supply you. A 50-cent can of this will last you several months.

OUR BASEMENT TOY DEPARTMENT NOW OPEN

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Mrs. Vivian Whitall Adams might be called a twentieth century crusader for she has just left this country for a trip through little known parts of the Holy Land. Mrs. Adams, writer and camerawoman, is the wife of John Quincy Adams, a major in the United States Marine Corps. In her travels she will follow the route of the British army up through Kut-elmarra to Bagdad, and then will trace the footsteps of Gen. Allenby's men to Jerusalem, thus traversing Palestine from "Dan even to Bersheba" as the scriptures have it.

Mrs. Adams will act as camera correspondent for the screen newspaper and magazine of the Fox Film Corporation. She will record hitherto unobtainable views of the country now happily freed from the Turks' rule after years of oppression. Turkey is not a strange land for this pretty young explorer either for she was born in Smyrna, Asia Minor, of an English and a French mother. She knows the Ottoman language and is also conversant with French and modern Greek.

Until a few weeks ago she was in Santo Domingo with her husband. Her sunny disposition and willingness to aid the homesick and lonely marines won her the title of "the first lady of Santo Domingo." It was through her efforts that a motion picture machine and films were obtained from the United States, and she had the men build their own theater.

When asked about her trip Mrs. Adams said, "I expect to visit part of the Holy Land far from the old routes of tourists, and to spend and bring back pictures that will be of interest to Christian people all over the world."

She added that she was no more afraid to make the journey alone than she would to walk down Broadway, New York.

Former American Woman May Sit In Parliament

Lady Astor has accepted the invitation of the Plymouth Unionists to become a candidate for the house of commons for the seat in Plymouth vacated by the elevation of her husband, Viscount Astor, to the house of lords.

In a telegram to the Unionists committee at Plymouth she says: "Fully conscious of the great honor and grave responsibility I accept your offer to stand for Plymouth. A number of women candidates took advantage of the electoral reform to stand for parliament in the elections last December, but all were defeated except the Countess Markievicz, who refused to assume her seat in conformity with the Sinn Fein policy on this subject."

Faculty House for Vassar

Mrs. James H. Williams, class of 1870, has given $100,000 for a faculty house for Vassar College.

The building which will stand on Rock Lot, adjacent to the new alumnae house, will provide suites consisting of a bedroom, study, bath and kitchen for each instructor.

Womens Economic Committee Formed

Mrs. William D. Long of Jacksonville, very well known in both club and civic activities in Florida, has accepted the leadership of the women of her state to direct the work for the women's national economic committee in her district.

Miss Helen Varick Boswell is acting chairman of this committee with offices at 22 East 17th street, New York. The organization will include all women who wish to intelligently deal with problems that affect women, especially the economic reasons for the present prices of food. Other problems will be dealt with as they present themselves.

The women's national economic committee has been recently formed to serve as a clearing house for all existing organizations. It will distribute reliable and constructive information for both men and women and will be of great service in stabilizing conditions essential to the welfare of our nation.

Being the wife of an ambassador used to mean not only a singularly interesting position in the diplomatic world, but also having a lovely time. Social life at the court in Stockholm has always had a rare charm and Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, wife of the American ambassador to Sweden, always added much to its distinction. Her entertainments, her costumes, and her jewels were quite out of the ordinary. But at the beginning of the war Mrs. Morris plunged into the real work of the world and she has never stopped.

She set out for Washington a few days ago to ask, as she did in 1914, at the beginning of the world conflict, "How can I help?"

She realizes that reconstruction problems are quite as serious as war problems and is prepared to do her Morris has already given a big contribution to the work of reconstruction by aiding the blind.

She learned the braille system so that she might instruct the blinded soldiers, and organized circles to make braille books. She herself not only translated a number of Mark Twain's works into different languages, but also put them into braille. Recently these plates were sent by Mrs. Morris to the Congressional library at Washington, so that they might be used to make braille books.

In addition, Mrs. Morris worked for the French and Rumanian refugees, and for the helpless and suffering in Finland. The wives of Swedish men in America, who had served during the war with the American army, found in her a loyal and ardent friend. She personally collected clothing during the ten trips she has made across the ocean since the war began and took in charge their distribution.

Mrs. Morris has the coveted decoration of the Cross of Queen Marie, given her last June in Paris by the Rumanian queen herself because of Mrs. Morris' work for the Rumanians. Mrs. Morris has been in this country since June, having come over to place her daughter and son in schools here. She expects to return to Sweden next month.

SWEDISH COUNTESS IS COURT FAVORITE

Countess Wrangel.

Countess Wrangel, wife of the Swedish ambassador to the court of St. James, is one of the most popular members of the diplomatic set in London. She is much sought after for society and court functions and she is herself a royal entertainer. Her husband is one of the greatest diplomats in Europe. It was the countess's knowledge of diplomatic and international procedure that averted an open break between Sweden and England over the former's relations with Germany during the war.

Hypo-Cod Price Advances Without Fail November 15

Jobbers are selling last lots of Hypo-Cod at old prices now.

DRUGGISTS WILL RAISE PRICE IN A FEW DAYS

How international conditions are affecting prices is shown in the price advance of Earle's Hypo-Cod. Although made in one of the country's foremost and largest laboratories the scarcity of several of its important ingredients forced a raise in its price when demand exhausted the enormous stock on hand.

Explaining it in a notice to wholesale druggists and to the many of all ages who take it this time of the year as a tonic, an official said. We have tried strenuously to hold the price of Earle's Hypo-Cod down but the costs have risen until every bottle sold was sold at a loss. This could not continue indefinitely and we are forced at last to fall in line with other preparations containing one or more of these expensive ingredients and raise the price too.

To notify all druggists is impossible although all wholesalers are being advised at once.

A world wide shortage of ingredients which include the medical extracts from Pure Cod Liver Oil, Extra Select Sherry Wine, Wild Cherry Bark, Melt Extract and Syrup of Hypophosphites finally forced even the Earle Chemical Co., to raise and jobbers assert stocks are low everywhere on this favorite winter tonic.

INTERESTED IN WET-DRY FIGHT

Newell people are very much interested in the outcome of the wet and dry fight in Ohio at Tuesday's election.

The adoption of the four issues, submitted by the liquor interests, will make conditions, regarding the sale of liquor in East Liverpool practically the same as it was before the State went dry last spring, local people claim.

Newell and Hancock county as a whole, according to officials, has been much better since Ohio voted to eliminate her grog shops. The fact that the main towns of the county—Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton are located on the river banks, just across from East Liverpool, Toledo and Steubenville, makes it an easy matter for booze to be brought into the State with the Buckeye State "wet."

The State of West Virginia has been "dry" for a number of years and local people feel that the voters of Ohio will reject the proposition offered by the liquor interests—legalizing the alcohol; repeal of state-wide prohibition, defeat the Crabbe act, enforcing state-wide prohibition and rejection of the state legislature's ratification of the national prohibition amendment.

Degree Team Practice

The degree team of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F. of Newell, will hold its regular weekly practice at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Aaron building. The lodge will put a class of candidates through the initiatory degree at its meeting Friday evening.

AT the Theatres

"THE WANDERER," BIBLICAL SHOW AT CERAMIC

Mail orders for the engagement of the big spectacular Biblical drama, "The Wanderer," at the Ceramic theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, with Wednesday matinee, are steadily pouring in. Not for many seasons has the management known such interest to have been manifested in an approaching engagement. News of the success of "The Wanderer" in the few other big cities thus far played, has preceded it here, and the announcement of the remarkable cast which will interpret its principal roles is sufficient guarantee that acting of the kind that has become very infrequent will be witnessed. Prominent among the original players will be Robert Frazer, Florence Auer, Henry Duggan, Olga Newton, Richard Thornton, Louise Orth, George Sullivan, Mabel Montgomery and Dwight Dana, and nearly 100 others. The Russian premiere danseuse, All Moysenova, will lead the ballet of 30. In the opening act more than one flock of sheep, goats and dogs are used.

"The Wanderer" tells the story of the Prodigal Son. He is at first discovered as the discontented shepherd on his father's estate. Then he is shown in a magnificent palace of pleasure in Jerusalem, squandering his substance. The third and last act brings him back home, broken in purse, spirit and health, to beg his father's forgiveness which the boundless love of his mother finally obtains for him.

Martin's Ferry—Frank Coss has invented a water motor for use on washing machines. Its simplicity is attracting the attention of manufacturers.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN "WOLVES OF NIGHT"

William Farnum followers—and their name is legion—are happy over another opportunity to see the "strong man of the film" in a new photoplay, "Wolves of the Night," shown for the first time at the American theatre yesterday. The William Fox star scored another triumph.

As a young mining engineer unable to locate copper on his holdings, he turns the land into a sheep ranch. After marrying he leaves for Chile—as the result of a plot—to investigate copper mines for his rivals. After being away from home for five years—most of the time his mind a blank as the result of an explosion—he returns to find his wife married to one of the conspirators whose land has been taken over by the plotters and is now one of the big bonanzas.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

FEATURE OFFERING AT STRAND THEATRE

Like a slave in the market place, sold to the highest bidder, Mary MacNeill, heroine of "The Woman Thou Gavest Me" by Hall Caine, passes through the most terrible experiences that could fall to the lot of a woman. Yet she finally overcomes them and wins a measure of happiness.

This wonderful story, with a few necessary modifications, has been made into a motion picture that is said to be one of the most powerful ever attempted, presented with a virtually all-star cast, directed by Hugh Ford, will be presented at the Strand theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

The wide range of territory covered by the story embraces England, Egypt, Africa, India and the Antarctic and in the cast are such well known players as Katherine MacDonald, Theodore Roberts, Jack Holt, Milton Sills, Katherine Griffith, Fritz Brunette and others.

When the novel was published in 1913 it excited much discussion. Derwent Hall Caine, the son of the author, dramatized it and it was produced in Boston April 13, 1917, where it ran for several weeks to big business.

Bucyrus—The American Clay Machinery company have leased a business room in the heart of the business section for a period of seven years and will install and operate a bakery shop using one of their new rotary ovens manufactured here for the bakery. They intend to start operation Dec. 1 and equip in a thoroughly modern manner so as to have a show shop for prospective customers of their new line of baking machinery when ever they come to town.

SEEK $75,000 FOR NEWSCHOOL

As the result of action taken by the members of the Chester board of education at a meeting held in the Central school building Monday evening, Chester voters will in the next couple of months be asked to approve or disapprove the issuance of bonds to the amount of $75,000 for the construction of a new high school building here.

Lawrence Baxter, clerk, was instructed to draw up the necessary resolution calling for the election.

According to tentative plans, an eight-room building with an auditorium will be built for high school purposes only. By the erection of a new high school building, three large rooms on the second floor of the Central building, now being used for high school work would be left vacant for the use of the grades, thereby alleviating the crowded condition in the elementary and primary departments.

The board first discussed the advisability of levying bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the new high school, but an investigation showed that $75,000 was the most money which could be secured at this time, because of the heavy indebtedness of the city.

Three-fifths of the voters casting ballots at this election must approve of the bond issue before it will carry. If the proposition is approved a site for the structure will be purchased, bids will be asked and work on the new structure started by early spring, in order that it can be rushed through to completion before the beginning of another term.

The voters of Chester three or four years ago rejected a proposal for the construction of an addition to the present Central building.

The board plans to erect the new high school building at some point in the central part of the city. It has been planned to establish manual training, domestic science and introduce other courses, making the high school here without doubt the best in the county and one of the best in the Panhandle district.

Monday night's meeting was attended by Hugh B. Lynch, president; Lawrence Baxter, clerk; E. E. Oldaker, superintendent; and H. G. Mercer and Joel Taylor, members.

COUNCILMANIC MEETING THURSDAY EVENING

Council will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting at the city hall on Thursday evening of this week.

A number of important matters are scheduled for consideration at this time, among them being the ordinance extending to the West Penn Power company a franchise for the furnishing of street lighting to the city of Chester, which will be brought up for second and final reading.

The councilmanic body will also further discuss the much mooted question regarding the proposed purchase of the city fire station in Carolina avenue. C. A. Smith, owner of the building, has offered it to the city at a reasonable figure, and it is probable that legislation looking toward the acquiring of this property by the city will be ordered at this meeting.

HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION AT NEW CUMBERLAND

New Cumberland was the scene of a monster Halloween celebration Monday evening, and hundreds of visitors from Chester, Toronto, Weirton, Steubenville, Wellsville and other towns were in attendance.

The celebration was originally planned for last Friday, Halloween night, but because of the rain, the affair was postponed until Monday evening. The celebration consisted of a parade and a Mardi Gras. Fred Bradley was chief marshal of the parade. Prizes were given to the winners in the various classes of costumes.

Attend East Liverpool Concert

Many Chester people attended the concert, given at the East Liverpool High school auditorium Monday evening, under the auspices of General Garfield Camp, Sons or Veterans. The concert was given by Miss Florence Otis, soprano, and assisting artists.

Minter, East Liverpool man, who is now being held by federal officials for his failure to register under the selective service act, was indicted on a burglary charge. However, Minter will first be dealt with by the federal authorities before he is returned to West Virginia to face the indictment against him here.

Three Chester youths, Albert Householder, Charles Sproun and John Don, charged with making an assault upon an aged man, have been summoned to appear before Judge Addleman, Thursday, Nov. 6.

Two men, both claiming to answer to the name of George Thomas, and both said to reside in Weirton, will be tried on Nov. 18. A number of civil cases will be heard when the petit jury meets next week. Samuel Matu of Weirton and Frank Milhoan of Newell, who were indicted last June, will be tried, beginning on Thursday of this week, it was announced Monday.

$1,500 MAIL CARRYING JOB GOES BEGGING

Although the job pays a salary of $1,500 a year, nobody wants to carry the mail on Rural Route No. 1, the only country route leading out of Chester.

Edward Barnhart, carrier on the route, tendered his resignation to Postmaster W. B. Stewart about two weeks ago, the resignation taking effect last Saturday. Although every effort was made by the postmaster to fill the place, temporarily, no one could be induced to take it.

An examination for applicants for the position will be conducted on November 29, but the place must be filled temporarily until that time. The mail addressed to patrons on the rural route was left undelivered on Monday, many of the farmers being forced to call at the postoffice for their mail.

Mrs. William Bloor will be hostess to the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist Episcopal church at her home in Louisiana avenue, Thursday evening. Following the regular program there will be a social hour, during which the hostess will serve refreshments.

VETS LAUNCH CAMPAIGN HERE

The Chester lodge, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has launched a campaign for new members, according to an announcement, which has just been made.

The drive for members was launched a few days ago and since that time more than 30 membership cards have been signed. William Apple, William Oyster, E. E. Sayres and Thomas E. Kenney is in charge of the work of soliciting new members.

The Chester lodge has been named Jesse Burge post, in honor of a Chester man who made the supreme sacrifice during the war with Germany. Burge died of influenza in France, following the signing of the armistice.

The local post was first organized a few months ago. It is composed of men who served in the United States Army, Navy, or Marine service on foreign waters or soil during the world war. Men who served in the Philippines, during the Spanish-American war or during the Boxer uprising are also eligible for membership.

Revival Services

Large crowds continue to attend the revival service now being conducted at the Free Methodist church, corner Second street and Church alley. The services are being conducted by Rev. A. D. Zahniser, general conference evangelist, of Greenville, Ill.

Meetings will be conducted throughout this week, the services beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Special music will be rendered in connection with each service. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Making Motherhood Easier

Happy Days Follow The Flight of the Stork

SO profound is the effect which the unborn infant has upon the mother that she may be said to tingle to her very finger tips.

The conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman. Just as she prepares herself for it, so will most favorable conditions prevail when her child is born.

Under all normal internal conditions, women who use Mother's Friend need have no apprehension about the ultimate results of maternity. On the contrary, the period of duration in expectancy will be one of joyful anticipation; a looking forward to the wonderful event in perfect serenity.

USED BY THREE GENERATIONS

"My mother used Mother's Friend before I was born 26 years ago and my birth was practically a painless one," writes one enthusiastic mother. How very natural then that her own mother, whose experience had unqualifiedly proven the virtue of Mother's Friend would have her daughter enjoy the same benefits.

Employers Provide Jobs for Men Who Answered
U. S. Call.

East Liverpool employers who have not yet enrolled in the "Legion of Patriotic Employers," an organization composed of heads of concerns who have agreed to take back their ex-service men, have only until Armistice Day to comply with the provisions of the war and navy department, according to an announcement made Saturday.

Nearly a score of East Liverpool pottery firms and other concerns qualified recently through the home service-civilian relief for the citation issued jointly by the war and navy departments.

The citation is a handsome document, suitable for framing, signed by the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy. It shows that the recipient has pledged himself to keep faith with all his employees who entered the army or navy during the war.

FILE CLAIMS FOR YOUR PAY

East Liverpool ex-service men who have not yet received their full share of travel pay, allotments and other government disbursements are requested to file their claims with the Home Service-Civilian Relief or directly to the Discharged Enlisted Men's Pay Branch of the Office of the Director of Finance, 3303 Munitions building, Washington, D. C.

In a letter received Tuesday at Home Service-Civilian Relief headquarters here from Starr Cadwallader, Cleveland, division director of Civilian Relief, Home Service secretaries are requested to acquaint discharged service men of the fact that nearly 89,000 claims for arrears in pay are awaiting consideration by a staff of office workers capable of handling but 450 claims a day.

Blanks to be used in filing claims for back pay are available at Home Service-Civilian Relief Headquarters, Betz building, and the local workers will lend every aid in filling these out and forwarding them to their proper destination. Many East Liverpool former service men had claims of unpaid government disbursements when they returned home and a majority of these secured aid through the Home Service in recovering arrears of pay.

St. Clairsville—The Eastern Ohio branches of the Tri-State Milk Producers' association are preparing to merge with the Dairyman's Co-Operative Sales company. Milk prices in many towns in this part of the Ohio valley raised due to increases demanded by farmers.

BIG MUSICAL SHOW COMING TO CERAMIC

An American helress almost forced by a title-mad parent into a marriage with a nobleman she cannot love and a beautiful corset model are the center of the plot of "Flo-Flo," the musical comedy hit which John Cort is bringing to the Ceramic theater here.

"Flo-Flo" comes here following its run of an entire season at the Cort theater, New York, and long runs in Boston and Chicago.

The show numbers among its attraction a notable cast of principals, a team of eccentric dancers which was the sensation of Broadway all last season and a "perfect 35" chorus, known as the only comedy chorus in the world. "Flo-Flo" is also adorned with more than its share of striking scenery, magnificent costumes and lovely lyrics.

In the personnel of the superior cast are Hazel Alger, Ben Hastings, Carl George, Augustus Buell, Eddie Lloyd, Ed Lorraine, Elsa Thomas, George Pierce and Frank Masters and others of prominence and the "Perfect Thirty-Six" chorus. What is said to be an exceptionally fine musical comedy has the advantage of an augmented orchestra.

No Need To Be Thin, Scrawny or Sallow

If you are thin and want to be plump if you have wrinkles in your face that you are not proud of, if the skin is sallow or subject to pimples of blackheads, take Mi-na stomach tablets for two weeks and notice the change.

The majority of the thin people are thin because the stomach does not perform its duties properly. It is not secreting sufficient of the natural digestive juices and in consequence does not extract from the food enough nutritive matter to nourish every part of the body.

Mi-na stomach tablets are intended to build up the stomach so that it will not properly and extract from the food the elements necessary to form flesh.

If you are thin try two weeks treatment of Mi-na stomach tablets—they are small, easily swallowed and are sold on the guarantee of money back if they do not overcome chronic indigestion, acute or chronic, stop stomach disturbance, belching, heart burn, sour stomach, and any after dinner distress.

EXPECT HIGH WATER STAGE

Ohio River Will Reach 22-
Foot Stage Tuesday.

With at least a 22-foot stage predicted within 24 hours, every precaution was being taken onday at Government Lock, No. 8, just below here, to meet any emergency that might arise.

Lights crowning the concrete columns and removable rigging on the bear traps have been removed, while steps have been taken to safeguard the gate engines from ravages of the high water. The wickets and bear traps have been lowered to a level with the river bed and no impediment will be offered the high water crest at this point.

Fears of a serious flood stage were pronounced groundless Tuesday despite continued heavy rainfall. The headwaters of the Ohio are rising following repeated rains, but the volume of water is not believed great enough to cause any serious damage in the lower Ohio valley. It requires at least a 35-foot stage to inundate the low places in Jethro and high water warnings issued from the U. S. government engineer's office in Pittsburgh places the anticipated stage at not more than 22 feet.

7 STRIKERS ARRESTED AT YOUNGSTOWN

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 4.—Seven strikers and strike sympathizers were arrested at the Poland avenue entrance of the Sheet and Tube mill this morning when a crowd of men and women charged the mill gate in an effort to stop men from entering the plant. Several deputy sheriffs lost part of their raiment and one officer was minus his badge after rounding up the ringleaders. Four women and three men are in jail charged with disturbance.

Several shots were fired into the lower Carnegie mills from West avenue this morning. Mill guards returned the fire. No one was injured.

ASSUMES RESPONSIBILITY FOR TROOPS' PRESENCE

Assuming full responsibility for the presence of federal troops in the West Virginia coal fields, Governor John J. Cornwell in a letter to C. F. Keeney, President of District Number 17 United Mine Workers declared that he had requested military aid after being advised that union miners had planned for another "armed march into Logan county", where the large non-union Guyan fields are located. The governor's letter was in reply to one received earlier in the day from Mr. Keeney charging that the miners had suspicions that the governor was "not dealing openly and above board with U. M. W."

"As to my good faith in my expressed desire to see the miners receive fair dealing and their constitutional rights," said Governor Cornwell, "which you say many miners of your organization have questioned; that subject I shall not discuss. You have practical knowledge regarding it and I shall depend upon your sense of justice to convince the doubting ones."

Convicted Akron Murderer Appeals Case to Appellate Court.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4.—The court of appeals yesterday heard arguments in the appeal of Peter Carfarelli, Akron convicted of first degree murder for the killing of Policeman George Werle and sentenced to be electrocuted.

Counsel for Carfarelli contended that the verdict should be set aside as against the weight of evidence and contended that the defendant should have been granted a change of venue to another county in order to have secured another trial.

Technical points were also argued, objections having been taken on a number of points during the course of the trial.

County prosecutor Roetz appeared for the state and opposed the motion of the defense that the verdict should stand.

The court's decision will be handed down later.

PRISON SHIP PASSES HERE

Taking advantage of the temporary rise in the Ohio river, the old British prison ship Success passed East Liverpool Tuesday morning about 9:30 enroute from Pittsburg to New Orleans.

The ancient craft has been moored along Pittsburg's water front for several months following a tedious trip up the Ohio river nearly a year ago. It was visited by thousands of Pittsburgers and others who were attracted to its interior by the instruments of torture, horrible dungeons and other appliances used several hundred years ago when the craft was operated as a British prison ship.

The craft draws nearly 17 feet of water, was forced to remain at several

HERE'S FRIEND HOD IN A NEW ROLE

Hod Eller, known best as one of the big guns of the recent world's series, was presented with a handsome gun by the folks of his old home town, Danville, Ill., when he blew in there to have the laurel wreath placed on his brow. And, like any youngster with a fire, Hod wasn't contented until he had tried it out.

Hod took up trapshootin' as soon as the town got through giving him banquets and presents, and, judging from the way he started, he'll soon be as good at bringing down the clay pigeons as he was at slipping the ball past the White Sox batters.

In his first match at the Danville Rod and Gun club Hod blazed away at 180 birds and brought down 60, which is right smart shootin' for a young whipper-snapper, according to the old boys.

TAD'S TID-BITS

Al Lippe, who has managed many a bruiser and watched many others box, picks as his greatest fighter Abe Attell.

"There's a kid that was born a boxer," said Lippe, warming up. "He started in at Alec Greggain's club in San Francisco without ever having taken a lesson. He worked as a messenger boy in the day-time and did his fighting at night. He licked every amateur of his weight in Frisco, then came east and startled the world with his cleverness.

"He had a build like a lightweight, but was a very light featherweight. He not only beat all of the best fighters, but he took on the best light and welterweight fighters as well. Didn't he fight Forbes at 118 pounds one night and the same week beat Buddy Ryan, who was the boss welter? Can you name me another boy of his weight doing that? The best McGovern could do was to get Ernie at 123 pounds. Abe Attell let the lightweight come in at 133 pounds. He didn't drag them down to skin and bone before he faced them.

"They talk about Joe Gans outpointing Abe in a private bout one day. That's a joke. Gans was training to fight Nelson and Abe agreed to give him a four-round workout at San Rafael. A big mob went over to see them and, of course, Gans had a little the better of it, but wait.

"Joe had just had an operation on his nose and asked Abe to lay off the smeller during the go. Of course, Attell agreed. Can you imagine Abe boxing without using a left to the face? That's about the same as tackling a mule when you make the mule agree to fight only with his front feet.

"Show me one fighter who has fought as often as Attell did with as few defeats. You can't name one. He was the leading lady of the feathers and the star of the pugilistic show, you can take it from me."

KRELING PANS OLD-TIME BOXERS

Tiv Kreling, one of the oldtimers in Frisco, gave Marion Salazar an interview the other day and during the chatter, panned the old-time fighters to a crisp. Here's some of the things that Tiv said:

"They're all the time talking about what happened at the old California Club—about how Corbett and Peter Jackson boxed sixty-one rounds.

"Know what Corbett and Jackson really did? Just stood and looked at each other for six and seven rounds at a time—until Mr. Fulda ordered Hiram Cook to stop the thing and throw them out.

"Great fights they had at the California Club! The fights were as interesting that the spectators would go out in the middle of them and eat ham and eggs.

"Sure they did! Used to go across the street and buy drinks—at the Carter Oaks saloon, at Cully's, at the Grand Hotel Bar and at Cashman & Doyle's.

"Could Peter Jackson Whip Jack Johnson?"

"George Dixon wasn't much. He looked like a little colored jockey and Johnny Kilbane could have pecked him to pieces.

"Peter Jackson would have stood as much chance of whipping Jack Johnson as I would.

"The old-timers boxed like they were catching butterflies."

SPORTING GOSSIP

The Ohio State football eleven, favored to win the Western Conference championship for the third time in four years, is practically an all-Ohio product. Only two of the 36 members of the regular squad claim allegiance to homes outside the state, and one of these is only nominal.

Left Half Bliss is the only real outsider on the eleven. Butler, Pa., being his bailiwick. Captain "Chic" Harley, reared in Columbus, and who has played all his high-school and collegiate football here, has parents in Chicago, whom he sees between times when he's not totting the football for a tough-down against some team. But "All-American Ohio" claims Columbus as his own home.

For the first time in years there is a heavy percentage of the Buckeye squad from northeastern Ohio. Southeastern Buckeyedom also lays claim to a large share of the team. Columbus, which has invariably furnished a bulk of football material for Ohio State teams, has been forced to take a back seat to other parts of the state.

The following northeastern Ohioans are to be noted: Left end, Myers, Bucyrus, all-western center; Fred Holtkamp, of Lakewood; Jim Flower, right end, Akron; Frank Williaman, fullback, Salem; Andy Nemcek, sub-center, Lorain; L. L. Johnson, sub-guard, Painesville; R. H. Farcasin, right half, Cleveland; W. V. Slyker, end, Huron; C. R. Weaver, sub fullback, Youngs town; Neil Gillan, sub-guard, Lorain; Don Volz, sub-end, Canton; Fred Schweitzer, sub half, Ravenna, and J. J. Navin, sub half, Norwalk.

From eastern and southeastern Ohio comes Tom Davies, left half, Iron-ton; C. A. Taylor, sub half, Martins Ferry; R. H. Spiers, tackle, Freedom Sta-tion. Northwestern Ohio furnishes Quarterback "Pete" Stinchcomb, Fostoria; E. Y. Johnson, sub end, Lima.

Columbus players are: Left Guard Pixley, Right Guard PTrott, Sub-end MacDonald, Sub-tackle Addison, Sub-quarters Cott, D. Wiper, B. Wiper, Sub-guard Church, Sub-fullback Matheny, and Sub-center Newlon. In addition to Captain Harley, Columbus and Chicago, the other members of the squad are located as follows: Tackle Huffman, Chanderlerville, Sub-tackle Fried-man, Circleville, Sub-guard Wiecha, Hamilton, Sub-guard Ewart, Tallmadge.

Three Buckeyes share the honor of scoring the first touchdown against Michigan, and it would take the blind Goddess of Justice herself to decide which of the trio should be credited with the first six points scored against Michigan in years.

Right End Flower says the oval was under his chin, Tackle Huffman says it was between his knees, Tackle Spiers states that the ball was encircled by his arms. The truth of the matter is that all three ball lizards were so tangled around the ball that all three are entitled to share in the achievement.

HAZARD CALLS OFF BIG POLO EVENTS ABROAD

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Polo enthusiasts feel disappointed over the announcement made by W. A. Hazard, secretary of the American Polo Association, that there will be no international match this year. Mr. Hazard received a letter from Viscount Valentia, of the Hurlingham Club, of London, in which he says that owing to the war its members are without sufficient ponies to mount an international team, but they will be in a position to accept the challenge in 1921.

The letter in part to Mr. Hazard follows:

"Hurlingham Club, Fulham S. W.

"We have resumed our polo this season to some extent, but the war has left us with a severe shortage of ponies, and many of our regiments being still abroad (and we are unable to conjure for how long), we see no hope of regaining our full polo strength for the present.

"Under the circumstances our polo committee thinks that it will take us till the summer of 1921 to be able to put a team into the field worthy of such stalwart opponents as the American Polo association, and has authorized me to put before your association the proposal that we should postpone our next trial of strength until the year after next.

"We are looking forward with much pleasure to meeting in the polo field, and the fact that the two nations have been so happily associated in a victorious campaign will add to our pleasure in welcoming polo players from the United States."

Mr. Hazard's reply to Viscount Valentia follows:

"Viscount Valentia, C. B., chairman Hurlingham Club Committee, Fulham, S. W., London England.

ROCKY KANSAS WINS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Rocky Kansas gave Knockout Mars of Cincinnati a terrific lacing in ten rounds here last night. George Ernie and Chick Simler boxed ten hard fought rounds to a draw.

"My dear Lord Valentia—Upon my return from my holidays I find your favor, without date, which I understand reached my office Saturday September 6.

"The committee of the Polo Association has no wish to challenge until you feel that we can have a good sporting event, and perhaps by 1921, your men and mounts and ours will be in better form than would be possible in 1920.

"As you suggest, it is therefore quite satisfactory to the Polo Association to abandon all thought of challenging for 1920, and we shall hope that circumstances will permit of our doing so for 1921 and that your club will be in a position to accept."

PRINCETON OUT TO BEAT RIVALS

To Win from Yale and Harvard Constitutes Successful Season for Tigers.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—It is beginning to look like a Princeton year, footballically speaking.

The years that have passed since Sam White have been lean ones for the Tiger, years full of hungry yearning and longing eyes cast toward New Haven and Cambridge. Each year as the leaves start to turn hopes have run high at Nassau. And each year these hopes, however rosy and sunshiny they have been in September and October, have withered and died under November frost. Always something has intervened to compel the Orange men to sigh and say: "Next year—"

The Tigers already have suffered one defeat this season. Doughty Colgate won a bitterly fought game from them some days ago. The score was 7 to 0. But in that defeat the Nassau people saw victory. They say their hopes revived.

To understand that rightly it is necessary to realize that Princeton can lose five games a year and win two and still have what Princetonians term a "winning year." A winning year is one in which the Tigers beat Yale and Harvard. Colgate can trim 'em, W. and J. may mop up the earth with the team—any of these "baby" colleges can administer stinging defeats, and it causes Princetonians not a whit of grief so long as the Tigers can swing into the November stretch with an eleven that can whip the Blue and the Crimson.

The results of other games are valuable or not valuable insofar as they develop or fail to develop the hunch that will dominate the "Big Three."

So Princeton adherents figure the Tigers won a victory over Colgate, for they fought the Hamiltonians to a standstill and they failed to tie up the game only by a piece of raw hard luck. And Colgate admittedly has one of the best, if not the best, aggregations in Eastern football this season.

Princeton has a well-balanced eleven this fall. Its backfield, pivoting around Maury Trimble, is the best in years. The wings are fast—Bigler and Williams on the ends have shown remarkable speed in getting down the field. The line is solid. It can be punched—Colgate demonstrated that—but it withstood staunchly the hammerings of one of the best backfields in the East and to the Tiger adherents this argues well for the Harvard and Yale games.

"It's the best Princeton team I've seen since Sam White," said an old grad coming back to New York after the game. "And I've seen 'em all." There was a murmur of assent from the crowded car.

In Trimble Princeton has one of the finest backfield men in the game today. He has beef and a world of speed, and his work in the forward pass gained many yards against Colgate. At Princeton they say that if Maury Trimble doesn't get an All-American berth this year the die ought to be examined.

The Tigers this year have developed the forward pass to much higher degree than in other years. Against Colgate they made a total of 35 yards through passing alone, which was remarkable considering the tackling ability and speed of Larry Bankart's eleven. Strubing and Williams also are adept at it, highly so, and it will be a disappointed bunch of supporters this year if the Tiger doesn't claw his way to a "winning year."

EUROPEAN CATTLE DECREASES OFFSET BY INCREASE HERE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Decreases in cattle, sheep and swine in nine countries of Western Europe have been offset by increased in other countries, including the United States, so that the present situation with respect to numbers is very much the same as before the war, the United States Department of Agriculture announces.

American exportation of meats and meat products may reach the pre-war level before the herds and flocks of Europe have been increased to pre-war numbers. Cattle decreased a little more than 7,000,000 in Western Europe, while in America, Canada, Argentina, Australia and New Zealand and elsewhere the increase has been a little more than 18,000,000. The loss of swine in Europe (this does not include Germany) amounted to 24,000,000.

The climate of the British colony of Sierra Leone on the west coast of Africa is so malarious that the colony is called "The white man's grave."

JOE STECHER BEATS LEWIS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Joe Stecher, the Nebraska farmer, after an hour and a half of hard wrestling, got his famous scissors hold on "Strangler" Lewis last night at Madison Square Garden and the match was over. Lewis fought desperately to break the Nebraska's hold, but he could not get away. Stecher won the fall in the official time of one hour, 31 minutes and three seconds. About 10,000 witnessed the match.

ON EASTERN GRIDIRONS

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 4.—Hard scrumage work was the order of the day at Palmer stadium, where the Tigers are preparing for their big clash next Saturday with Harvard.

Trimble, who was held out of the lineup Saturday to save him for the Harvard game, is getting a hard workout daily this week.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 4.—Yale is taking no chances with Brown in next Saturday's game. The Varsity is getting real workouts this week in preparation for the tussle with Brown. Captain Tim Callahan is back at center.

ESTABLISHES FIRST SCHOOL OF FINGERPRINT READING

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—The first school of fingerprints and identification in the United States has been established here by J. C. Hicks. In addition to a course in fingerprint reading, courses in photography of criminals, filing of fingerprint records, secret service intelligence and reading fatal features will be featured in the school.

Are You Blind In One Eye?

Many persons have been blind in one eye for years without discovering it until something happened to their good eye. If one of your eyes is defective the other may have to do all the work and the defective one will waste away and become blind from non-use. Experiment by covering one eye and then the other. HEAVY VOTING HERE TUESDAY

Heavy voting during the morning in the four precincts of the First ward, East End, was an indication of the intense interest in the election Tuesday. Although the wet and dry battle is the main issue all over the state, East End is having its own fight in the councilmanic contest between Ramond Chambers, Republican, and Dr. Joseph T. Williamson, Democrat.

Much interest is being shown in the mayoralty fight between Mayor J. S. Wilson, Republican, and W. F. Orr, Democrat. Mr. Orr is a resident of the East End.

Both Perry Rigby, Republican candidate for city solicitor, and his Democratic opponent, G. Jay Clarke, have a host of friends in the East End.

MISS ETHEL JOHNSON AND MILTON DUNCAN WED

The marriage of Miss Ethel Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson of the West End, and Milton Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan of Ohio avenue, East End, was solemnized in the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church of Beaver, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Following the service a wedding dinner was served at the Duncan home. Pink and white were the predominating colors of the centerpiece. Fifty-five guests were in attendance. The newlyweds left Tuesday afternoon on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to various points on the great lakes. Upon their return they will reside in East End.
